SUMMER URBAN PROGRAM 2006

Boston Refugee Youth Enrichment Summer • Cambridge Youth Enrichment Program • Chinatown Adventure • Franklin I-O Summer • Keylatch Summer Program • Mission Hill Summer Program • Native American Youth Enrichment Program • Refugee Youth Summer Enrichment • Roxbury Youth Initiative • South Boston Outreach Summer Program

Dear PBHA Friends & Supporters,

PBHA's Summer Urban Program (SUP) offers a very affordable, high-quality summer camp to more than 750 children in Boston and Cambridge. Despite the fundraising challenges they face, SUP directors continue to expand the boundaries of the “SUP experience” in innovative ways.

One camp sent its students to Washington, D.C. for the first time. Students were proud to recite the history lessons they had learned in camp while exploring the presidential monuments and the National Mall, imagining Martin Luther King, Jr. making his famous “I have a dream” speech there. Passing by the Supreme Court and Capitol Hill, students excitedly shouted, “So this is where they make laws!” and “These are the different branches of government!” Students came away inspired and excited about both the trip and all they had learned during SUP.

Through enriching activities like field trips to Washington, D.C., camping in the forest, interactive science experiments, and exploring the college application process, our children experience the joy of learning and realize their potential while preparing for the future. Harvard undergraduates and local high school students work endlessly to ensure the personal development of each camper.

Your gift to SUP will make an immeasurable difference to our campers, supporting our creative, interactive programming. Thanks to your generosity, each child pays only $2.50 a day for a summer they will remember forever. You also help give 75 local high-school students the opportunity to acquire job skills through the planning of academic curricula, classroom activities, and field trips. Finally, more than 100 Harvard undergraduates have the chance to become teachers, mentors, role models, and fundraisers, all rolled in to one!

By sending your donation today in the enclosed envelope or online, you are ensuring a summer filled with fun, learning, personal growth, and bold dreams for the future for our campers, counselors, and directors.
